Living Cost Increase Seen By Controller

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—(CP)—Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said today Canadians may expect a rise in prices in two or three months' time. Mr. Gordon said the fact that the cost-of-living has been stable in the last period under study is no guarantee that it will not rise in future.

Mr. Gordon said in an interview that he is in favor of alerting card of direct rationing to consumers but that rationing of food could be introduced in Canada with little delay if the situation becomes sufficiently acute.

He said one of the reasons his rationing is in favor of alerting card of direct rationing to consumers but that rationing of food could be introduced in Canada with little delay if the situation becomes sufficiently acute.

Resistance Is Still Going On At Singapore

were determined to resist against any odds.

"We will go on fighting and damn the consequences," a spokesman declared.

The spokesman said The Netherlands never abandon their island, though alone without a fight, even if Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's supreme Allied command decided the best strategy would be to withdraw to Australia.

The Netherlands command said scorched-earth destruction of the harbor works at Macassar, chief port on Celebes Island north of Java, had been so effective that "the enemy will not find anything of use to him."

The Macassar harbor area was reported in flames.

Japanese propaganda had to back-wash the exaggerated claims that all fortifications of Singapore island had been captured and that the only fleet left in the hands of the invaders.

Face-over of moment in the Orient was lost in the fact that statements of the Japanese had misled the leaders of their German allies, Hitler.

A Berlin broadcast last night said "The Fuehrer wired the Japanese emperor his heartiest congratulations on the occasion of the capture of Singapore."

STILL CARRYING ON
Yet Australian, British and Indian soldiers, beginning and ending heavy fighting along long odds, still carried on, striking in defence or attack with spirit.

The B.B.C. said the defenders had "inflicted terrible losses" on Japanese reinforcements moving by daylight from the Malay mainland, sinking half their boats in the mid-way Johore Strait.

British, Burmese and Chinese defenders of Burma-backed force by British and American air squadrons—rejected in two weeks in the Salween river with Japanese striking from Thai and forward Japanese.

These were in the Pan and Maribon sectors, roughly 80 miles apart.

White Russia is a Republic of the U.S.S.R. north of the Ukraine and the Ukraine, it suffered heavily in fighting incident to the German drive to the East last summer.

The Russians reported Soviet marines had captured a strongly-fortified hill in the three-month battle of the Crises.

A dispatch to the government newspaper (Izvestia) said a battalion of the 131st German infantry regiment was dispersed in a victory drive by sea soldiers of the Red fleet to seize emplacement.

Belief that, behind the screen of relative secrecy, the Red army has launched new operations intended to batter down German positions before the outbreak of spring was expressed by foreign military observers in Moscow.

Even in the north, they said, the worst of the winter weather has been killed and lost a number of troops probably has passed.

2,400 ENEMY KILLED
Today's mid-day communication reported engagements in which more than 2,400 German officers and men were killed and lost a number of troops probably has passed.

It was pointed out the German fleet now can muster at least five formidable ships—the battleships Formidable, Scharnhorst and Tirpitz, and the pocket battleships Scheer and Luetow—as well as two aircraft carriers, three or four cruisers of the Prinz Eugen class, with eight-inch guns, several light cruisers and a considerable number of unknown number of destroyers.

MIGHT HALT CONVOYS
With such a fleet loose in the Atlantic, British sources said, the American fleet, though probably could not muster sufficient strength to meet that strength in less than two weeks.

It might mean a halt in North Atlantic convoy work until the German fleet was found and destroyed, and might endanger the Allied bases in Iceland.

Two additional battleships were under construction when the war began. Their status is unknown.

Whether one of these was the "German battleship" pictured in German newspapers last Aug. 18, or whether the caption published at that time referred to the Tirpitz, was never officially made clear.

In addition, the Germans are building four cruisers, more destroyers and have 12 torpedo boats (four more building), and an undetermined number of submarines.

Invaders FLEE
Since a first fleet loose in the Pan area has temporarily abandoned operations, a communique said at Maribon, the Chinese war supply route to have scrambled away hastily under attack, throwing down their arms.

More than 4,000 persons were killed in farm work accidents during 1939.

Montreal Rioters Fined Court Cost

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—(CP)—Eight young men, who pleaded guilty to charges of disturbing the peace in connection with an anti-conscription mass meeting here two days ago, were fined after paying court costs of $350 each.

They appeared in recorder's court to change their pleas, after pleading not guilty yesterday.

The court is being lenient with you because the police failed to file specific details of your behavior. Chief Recorder Alvin Thoin said. "Personally, I believe you have been the victims of a crowd, a pastime which is dangerous especially when trouble is brewing."

"I trust that you will not repeat your mistake and will bear in mind that Canada is one of the few countries in the world to day where people can still speak their mind."

Heppburn Backs Down On Speech

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—(CP)—Premier Heppburn of Ontario said today that what he told the Ontario agricultural council in an address yesterday was "it is admitted" he has naval supremacy in the Pacific.

Mr. Heppburn said he did not say "the Japanese have a much better navy than the United States." In the address he replied to criticism of his statement that the U.S. fleet "is in hiding," made during the Weiland by-election campaign last week.

The statement was criticized by Navy Minister Macdonald in the House of Commons at Ottawa Tuesday. Mr. Macdonald said it did not represent the view of the Dominion government.

Mr. Heppburn said today he had also told the council that "as long as the present situation holds the U.S. fleet would not venture to attack" the Japanese fleet, but did not say "it would not dare to attack" the Japanese fleet.

Day in Life of German Prisoner in Russian War Camp

Correspondent Finds Captured Enemy Well Treated in Detention

By A. T. STEELE

SOMEWHERE IN RUSSIA, Feb. 13.—Behind the 300-year-old walls of an abandoned monastery in this old village, halfway between Moscow and the Urals, I have been given a glimpse of the existence led by German prisoners of war in Russia. The monastery is now a camp for war prisoners. There are 840 of them housed in numerous buildings within the two-acre enclosure. The great majority are Germans but there are also a few scores of Poles, Czechs, Spaniards and one lone Finn.

With my British colleague, I came here in a two-day journey from Moscow. We travelled 300 miles by train through the remaining 36 miles by automobile and horse-drawn sleigh through a dazzling forest of ice-encrusted trees and a landscape of indescribable charm. Our residence here is a village of stone and brick buildings, the warden's white walls, which is the center of the camp.

EXCLUSIVE
emembered by a high barbed-wire fence. From wooden watchtowers at the corners of the main compound, armed sentries look down upon the camp within. We are guests here in the "administration" of war prisoners and internment.

We have not heard how many camps there are in the Soviet Union, nor is there any way of knowing how representative this one is. It is the only one we saw on our visit to this camp. We have been accorded every facility by the commandant, Lt. A. T. Steele, usually known as "Steele" to the prisoners through an official interpreter.

The five old monastery, situated on a commanding height in the center of a quiet country town, enclosed its three-story ecclesiastical residence after the Bolshevik revolution. It was used for some years as the headquarters of various Soviet organizations and two months ago its church and dormitory were converted into a place of detention for German captives.

PRISONERS AT WORK
We were shown through the camp by the commandant and a young woman interpreter. As we approached we found a group of about 20 Germans working outside the walls, sowing and chopping wood. Inside the white open gates other prisoners walked about the enclosure. They strapped to attention and saluted as we passed. All wore the field-gray uniforms of the German army.

It was a bitterly cold day and most of the prisoners were in their dormitories. Those big rooms were filled with two-tiered wooden platforms. On these platforms sat or reclined the prisoners—more than 100 to a room. Each had a straw mattress and pillow. There were no blankets but they were not needed. We visited the kitchen. The Russian cook was directing his staff of German helpers in preparing the noon meal. One of the Germans was peeling onions. Others were washing

No Whisper Of Defeat Heard In Gt. Britain

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—(C.P.)—

Leahard W. Brockington, former special assistant to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, said today in a conference that Britain has a great enthusiasm for Canada but lacks a general understanding of "just what Canada is doing in this war."

Mr. Brockington arrived in Ottawa Wednesday after two months in England. He plans to resume his practice as an associate counsel for an Ottawa firm but will devote as much time as possible to war activities, he said.

HAD MANY INTERVIEWS
During his stay in Britain, he personally interviewed many personalities from Prime Minister Churchill to George Bernard Shaw. He said General de Gaulle, leader of the Free French, had given him a message for Canadian aid and it would be released shortly.

"I saw evidence of magnificent war Canadian scientists, doctors and nurses are doing," he said.

There was no general view in Britain regarding the possible length of the war, but the most optimistic opinion of a short war was held by Russian Ambassador Ivan Mikoyan.

CANADA'S OWN AFFAIR
The English people looked on the government's proposed manpower legislation as Canada's own business, and had no opinion on whether it was for or against it, he said.

"I never heard the shadow of a shadow of the responsibility of defeat," he said. "I was generally agreed that nothing could happen to put Great Britain against the wall as she had been after the collapse of France in Dunkirk."

Airmen Killed In Crash At Stavely
CALGARY, Feb. 13.—(C.P.)—

Pilot George H. Campbell, 24, of Calgary and a Vancouver student pilot, LAC D. J. Dawson, 22, were killed at 11:30 a.m. Thursday when their Tiger Moth training plane crashed in a farmer's field near Stavely after a mid-air collision with a twin-engine Canoe trainer.

One wing and the tail of the Moth were reported to have been torn off in the collision. The bigger machine was "seriously damaged," officials said, but the student pilot, flying in a field, was not injured. Name of the pilot, who was uninjured was not released.

Daylight Saving Has No Effect On Power Load
CALGARY, Feb. 13.—(C.P.)—

Daylight saving has made no noticeable decrease in the power load in Calgary, says R. McKay, superintendent of the electric light and power department said Thursday.

What he has done is change the time of the peak load from late afternoon until early morning, he said.

He expected that within a month or two, when it is lighter in the early morning hours, a reduction of a few kilowatts might be noted.

M.P. Proposes Land Army For Nation's Farms

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—(C.P.)—

A plan that a land army be recruited of 50,000 men to relieve the shortage of farm labor was made in the house of commons Thursday night by W. R. Aylenworth (Con. Frontenac-Addington) in continuing the debate on the speech from the throne.

He said that the farm industry should be given the same consideration as any other industry. No member of the house could sincerely claim the agricultural industry was getting a fair deal, he said.

Mr. Aylenworth added that the latest practice was the price ceiling which would be a price ceiling on the price of farm products.

PROTESTS BOWS
G. T. Purdy (Lib. Colchester-Hants) protested the system of "bonuses" paid to western agriculturists.

There was a whole committee of the cabinet and there should be a whole committee to advise his constituents to vote "no" to the plan.

"I am 100 per cent in favor of the defence by all necessary means of Canada and its territories, and I will vote 'no' to the plan," he said.

PREMIER'S STATEMENT
Prime Minister Mackenzie King interrupted Rep. T. C. Douglas (C.P. Westman) when the latter referred to Hong Kong to announce that Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff as a royal commissioner, would conduct an inquiry into circumstances surrounding the sending to Hong Kong of a convict.

Both Arthur Gagnier (Lib. P.E.I.) and E. F. Picard (Lib. Bellefleur) defended the government's action.

While Mr. Gagnier said the government must be free to act in any way it saw fit in the defense of Canada, Mr. Picard said French Canadians are also opposed to conscription and that it will not be easy to convince them it is necessary.

Lucien Dubois (Lib. Nicolet) said he would not support the plan but would support conscription for overseas service.

Dear Warrington—
I arrived in New York at 1:30 p.m. Monday and really enjoyed the trip. The service on the Air Lines is really wonderful.

A large number of farmers are here for the 62nd Annual Convention of the Merchants Tailors and Designers Association of America, from every state in the U.S.A. The new designs in fabric are well worth the trip in New York.

The talks and discussions in the latest in designing, both ladies' and men's clothes, is an inspiration. I feel confident that we shall be able to give still better clothes with the latest in new styles in the coming season, which in itself makes this trip to the Convention really worth-while.

Kind regards,
(Signed) T. J. LaFLECHE.

Conn Favored
Easily Stopped
Zale In Tonight's Bout

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Except as a pay-day there is no reason for Billy Conn to trouble with Tony Zale, the middle-weight champion in Madison Square Garden tonight. This doesn't apply to the fight itself, because that figure to be a pretty fair bit of fifty-pup, but Tony's heavy bumps matched against Billy's boxing, ring generalship and weight edge. But on the face of it, Billy has everything to lose and nothing to gain—except a piece of change, and that always comes in handy to a prospective fighter.

All roads for Conn point to his return match with Joe Louis in June, an affair that promises to bring $500,000 or more. If by some change Zale should make an accidental happen tonight, it might mean the boys can say bye-bye to that jackpot.

Mainline Billy figures to do all right for himself financially in the proceedings. Promoter Mike Jacobs estimates that some 12,000 spectators will contribute to a sum of $800,000 to $900,000.

Despite prohibitive odds on Conn, the fight has caught the eye of the middleweight, by beating George Abrams last Nov. 20.

In his training session here, the only opponent he had was Conn, and the Billy who fought Joe Louis last June is that he, having his hair cut a new way now. He seems to have all his old gins and may have added a new twist here and there.

Which means, he's genuinely puffed at Tony for saying Conn is just a soft touch. This corner pick him to stop Gary's "man of steel" in about nine of the scheduled 12 rounds.

B.C. House Asks

Strong Defence
Against Enemy

VICTORIA, Feb. 13.—(CP)—The British Columbia Legislature wound up a five-week session Thursday after passing unanimously a resolution moved by Premier Bennett and seconded by C.C.F. Leader Harold Wray, calling the attention of the federal government to the "immediate necessity of completing the federal defence program."

Two far-reaching measures to win approval during the session were the act setting income and corporation taxes to the Dominion authority for duration of the war in return for a fixed grant to the province, and another appointing a peace to survey post-war rehabilitation problems.

The last day of debate were highlighted by discussion over the status of the Commonwealth Creek area of the Peace River district, where the government has an oil-drilling project.

In the face of opposition from former premier T. D. Pattullo and the C.C.F., the house passed a government resolution which in effect opened up the area to private enterprise by empowering the province to lease oil lands on a royalty of not more than 15 per cent, gross proceeds.

New Set-Up For R.C.A.F. Police Given Approval

Billingsworth of the past, when aircrews were knocked out by the enemy in flight, leaving ground forces at the mercy of enemy planes, will not remain unaltered by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Following quickly the lead taken by the R.A.F. on the heels of security charges in the British House of Commons, the R.C.A.F. in Canada has announced formation of a new set-up for security police.

SPECIAL TRAINING

Pt. Lt. Henry E. Jones, who returned from Ottawa Thursday, states there will be special secret training for R.C.A.F. security police in the future and this branch of service assumes all the excitement the most daring would crave, the officer commanding No. 3 recruiting station, said.

"No longer is the function of security police the one of patrolling up and down in front of a building with a rifle on the shoulder for two hours at a time," said Pt. Lt. Jones said.

"The security police will in the future be real guardians of the air, and they will take a special course in this work. The methods of defence are a military secret any man serving as a security police officer will in future get at the action he craves," the officer said.

Guarding will be done in shifts of eight hours each, Pt. Lt. Jones stated.

SCIENTIFIC COURSES

Courses are extremely scientific and interesting. Submarine is studied in all its forms. Each particular kind of submarine for a specific kind of defence that requires long and careful study. It is one of the most interesting types of defence the air force holds for the enlisted man.

"We will require many men for this highly specialized work, and it is a fine opportunity for those who wish to serve their country in a field which requires daring and skill," Pt. Lt. Jones declared.

BEATIN' THE BLITZ

DOWN ALICE BEATIN' THE BLITZ

Through The Mill

When an Irishman gets his 'fish up' there is bound to be a bit of a row. It was so on Thursday when a local coalman sued in the prisoner's dock charged with violent destruction of property.

The chain of sequences which led to his detention commenced several weeks ago when an order was received for a load of fuel from an Irish street dweller. Promptly the coal was dispatched and stored in the basement of the house and then the trouble began.

Accused explained to the court that it was all a matter of misunderstanding the coal bill, which as it developed proved to be a very complicated task. Indeed, on several occasions he had visited the evidence and requested payment, with no result. A lad, he said, also tried his luck, while producing promises of payment, brought no definite result.

So the accused with grim determination, decided on at least one more try. He went to the door of the house and requested the evidence, but was promptly, however, failed to see that way and slammed the door in his face, with the admonition, "There was no use waiting gasoline driving over there and that you would mail the payment."

"That," declared the prisoner, "got my fish up and, according to the evidence, induced him to 'kick the bottom of the door, causing the gas in the upper portion to break."

"I can certainly sympathize with your situation," declared the court, while pointing out that regardless of the evidence, the law must be observed. Accused, however, stated that the cost of the court and the amount of damage to the property.

McCauley Group Does Good Work For War Cause

Telling a story of persistence of effort and enthusiasm to do their civilian share in the war effort, the McCauley Group of Edmonton have won the appreciation and admiration of friends in the city and in almost every one of the surrounding districts.

Their concert and dance, given in aid of the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims, have been attended by capacity crowd and many have had to be turned away, at each of their recent benefit performances.

MEMBERS OF TROUPE

Members of the regular troupe include Betty Gunnison, soloist; Connie Davidson and Norman Johnson, acrobats; Dick Pollard, accordion player; Minnie Foster and Margaret McDonald, Scottish dancers; Bessie Baker, pianist; Charlie Zurch, character singer; Morris Buxton, banjo player; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leach and Frank Adams, orchestra.

First Entertainment

Their "bumble beginning" was in June, when 18 members of the troupe gave a benefit performance in the Strathcona theatre. The audience comprised 20 guests, eight of whom were relatives and friends of the troupe. They cleared $4.00 for the Queen's Canadian Fund.

In concert given last Tuesday night in the Lyndbrook, Alberta had a packed house and had to turn many friends away.

Since the first of the year, in a little less than a year, they have raised $400 for the fund.

CONCERTS POPULAR

The concerts are so popular now that the troupe knows in advance that the size of the hall is the guide to how much money they can raise. Almost always they have had to turn people away.

Youth who are interested in their "quilt donation." For a donation of ten cents, any person may have his or her name embroidered on grey and green quilts which bear the crest of the city of Edmonton, and which are sent as comforts to bombarded areas in Britain.

Music Teacher Asks Fair Test Native Talent

Plans for next recognition of Canadian musical talent was advanced at a luncheon meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Music Teachers' Association at the Corona hotel on Thursday, by Loyell Gustin, of Saskatoon, president of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers.

Taking as his theme, "The Future of Music in Canada," Mr. Gustin recalled that a professor of French at a western university, who had lived in Canada for about 20 years, had written a book on the subject of "The Future of Music in Canada." He also recalled that J. B. Priestly, famous British author, had expressed the belief that the West was becoming the home and producer of the best art in America.

"We are in a peculiar position in Canada, in that, in addition to our own Canadian artists-performers, teachers and composers and there seem to possess high talent, ability and enthusiasm—we have those musicians who have come to us from the Old Country and have brought with them the energy and determination of a race of nation-builders, offers a worthy answer to the question."

Europe has an art history going back generations. Canadian art history is hardly more than a few years old, but it has developed enormously in these years.

CAN HOLD OWN

Regarding teachers, Mr. Gustin declared that "We do not fear competition with older nations in this field. Old country educators at festivals and examinations all testify to the high standard set by Canadian artists."

He said that "As composers we are just beginning to show our heads in the chapeau, which are distinctly Canadian, although many are of French origin and date back to the troubadours. A vast wealth of composition has been derived from Russian composers."

He declared that the little theatre did help the drama and the same could be done for music. This was where the general public could help the Canadian musician.

SHOULD GET HEARING

"Nothing should be condemned without being heard and heard frequently," he said. "Let us at least give our provincial artists a hearing."

He declared that Canadian performers compared with others and should be encouraged.

Teacher, performer and composer were necessary.

Three shafts of light make clear the nature and affiliates of our musical life in Canada," he said. First was "the tremendous musical-creating hunger," second "the remarkable gift and abundance of talent of our young musical forces," and third "the remarkable interest group will." He declared that "As music teachers we belong to a group that must be a beacon for the future of music in Canada."

IN ATTENDANCE

Among those attending were Mr. T. Winslow Hamilton, Mr. F. Barber Smith, Mrs. J. W. Sherman, Mrs. Jean Selton Kirkpatrick, Mr. H. Thelma Dobson Graham, Mr. R. Spencer, Mrs. G. C. Carruthers, Mrs. Mary Drummond, Miss M. J. Le Sueur, Isabel Ross McKee, Miss Mabel Jackson, Florence Jane Todd, Albert M. Fisher, Mel. Marjorie Robinson, Mildred Smith, Blanche H. Ukrainians In Alberta Urged To Back Loan

Canadian citizens of Ukrainian origin have a double reason for subscribing to the utmost toward Canadian branch of the Alberta Music Teachers' Association at the Corona hotel on Thursday, by Loyell Gustin, of Saskatoon, president of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers.

The convention was sponsored by the Ukrainian Merchants' Association of Alberta in convention in the city Thursday.

The convention was sponsored by the Ukrainian Merchants' Association of Alberta in convention in the city Thursday.

Chairman P. Wasylowych explained that in view of the prominent position of the respective merchants in their communities, it was most vital that at this time they return to their towns determined to put their shoulders behind the work of war effort, and do all possible to encourage bond purchases during the next three weeks, and to encourage the young men to enlist in the armed forces.

No other group in Canada can show more if Canada falls than those who came here from central Europe, Mr. Lasarowich said.

The freedom, property and opportunities which enjoy in Canada are incomparable to the miseries and hardships we left behind, he said.

No other immigrating group experienced such a wide span of difference for the better, between the old and the new as did the Ukrainians.

FREEDOM THREATENED

All these privileges are now being threatened. Complacency on our part at this stage is fatal, he said. The attack on Pearl Harbor convinced the alert Canadian that war on Canada's soil is not only possible but highly probable.

Mr. Lasarowich urged that the people present and other Ukrainian citizens get behind the struggle for freedom, and that they not only cheer enthusiastically, but by merely "slipping over the minimum mark" by responding willingly to all requests made by their federal authorities.

He stated that across Canada there are 85 schools set up under the British and Commonwealth Air Training plan and that there were seven ground crew schools offering over 70 trades besides.

He explained that anyone enlisting in the air force will not only serve his country, but he will train himself for some useful occupation after the war.

During the afternoon program John A. MacVicar, C.A., addressed the gathering on the "Necessity of Keeping Alert."

He explained some of the new regulations regarding income and national defence taxes.

VICTORY BONDS

Dorothy Dix Says:

A famous psychologist says that if women ever make up their minds how they want to be treated they will have no difficulty in getting men to treat them that way. Maybe not, but before that miracle happens men will have to acquire a few more mental agility than they possess.

In the present writing, because every woman would be treated in half a dozen different ways, and in the time the poor man has to find that he has fallen down on the others.

Women, to begin with, want men to treat them as superiors, but also as their equals. They want men to put them on pedestals and look up to them and worship them and treat them only a little less than the angels. They want men to believe that they are made of finer clay than they are that they have pure thoughts and higher aspirations and live altogether on a higher plane. But they go to the high heaven when men accept their own picture of themselves and try to keep them in their own sacred spheres. They demand to be treated as equals and not as their equals. So to men's schools, follow men's professions, do men's work, wear men's clothes, smoke and drink like men, and they have fought to get these rights until there is hardly a college or a bar or a business house that isn't jam-packed with women.

And yet they are not happy because they still want men to pick up their handkerchiefs for them and take off their hats to them in elevators, and generally handle them with gloves. Women are always complaining about the lack of chivalry in the modern man. Perhaps the reason is because a man doesn't feel very worshipping toward the woman who has taken away his job.

Every wife wants her husband to keep up the tactics of courtship even to their golden wedding. She demands that he be a go-kicker who can bring home the bacon.

Most wives want their husband to treat them as if they were adult human beings who had good brains, as well as good figures, and were capable of managing their own affairs.

But, also, they want to be treated like spoiled children, and when their husbands refuse to do this they pack their trunks and go back to mother. So, ladies, let us think things into consideration, if it is a wonder that men don't do the modern way they want to be treated. It can't be done.

—DOROTHY DIX.

INDIA PAPER DID NOT ORIGINATE IN INDIA.

Like many other names, India paper is misleading. It did not come from India, but from China, and was introduced into Europe about the middle of the 18th century. Because everything coming from the Far East in those days was called "China," this Chinese paper became misnamed and the error has remained. Used widely for prints of engravings and woodcuts, this thin and tough paper should really be called Chinese paper, not India paper.

Good Dancer Sure of Steps

She looks so lovely when she dances. Other girls feel clumsy when they watch her.

She may, though, have learned to dance at home, following simple diagrams. Many good dancers have.

Your Baby And Mine

Everything connected with the baby's bottles should be surgically clean. The bottles should be washed with soap and water and a bottle brush which can get to the bottom of the bottle. They should be rinsed and brought to a boil in a large kettle of water and boiled for several minutes and then filled out and allowed to drain on a freshly laundered towel.

The bottle nipples should be scrubbed on both sides, rinsed and boiled in a kettle of water and kept in a covered glass jar. All of these precautions are essential so baby will not develop any mouth infections from carelessly cleaned bottles and good formulas will not become contaminated.

Carelessness in the handling of bottles and nipples or failure to clean the breast nipples before each nursing, may result in a fungal infection of baby's mouth. It is because such slight causes may result in this infection that the importance of perfect cleanliness must be attained constantly.

Thrush above itself in small white patches in baby's mouth, patches which look like cottage cheese and of milk but which bleed when wiped off. It causes baby such discomfort that he is inclined to refuse food rather than to press his mouth onto the nipple.

The care of the aliment should be left to the doctor, for he can point it with vegetable dyes or treat it with other methods for its cure, but only the mother can prevent further recurrence of the ailment by her attention to these details of nursing or bottle feeding.

Not only must the bottles be washed and boiled before use, but formula is divided between them, but they must be kept afterwards in a clean spot, for even house dust on the nipples may be damaging to the health of the baby's mouth.

We see less of these these days only because proper care of bottles and nipples is so familiar a procedure to young mothers.

If you would like to have our leaflet, Fundamentals of Infant Feeding, and your request will be three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

House Approves Of Extension To Moratorium

Mr. Debris, Mr. Poirer and Mr. Hays, although stated by some to be in a better position than prior to outbreak of war, still found it difficult in most cases to meet their obligations.

FARMERS' FLIGHT

Though prices had risen on livestock and dairy products, he said, wheat prices were still low and, since August, 1939, the farmers' cost of living had risen 15 per cent. Groceries were up 22 per cent, farm machinery 31 per cent, farmers' taxes three per cent, with similar increases in many other items, he said.

The farmers formed about one-third of the population of Canada, he stated, and should receive about one-third of the national income. From 1915 to 1939 they did receive this proportion, but in the years 1939-43 they got only one-fourth and from 1939 to 1943 just one-tenth of the national income.

"It is necessary to improve conditions in agriculture if we are going to maintain farm life and not have people leaving the industry for more profitable enterprises," he said.

"RANK DISCRIMINATION"

N. E. Cook, S.C., Ode, seconder of the motion, declared, "The farmer is broke and the government must intervene."

He said the U.P.A. government had passed the Debt Adjustment Act in 1939 to protect farmers from foreclosure and the present government in 1940 had amended it to extend its protection to urban dwellers.

"After it was in force for eight years, the courts ruled it invalid," he said. He felt this was "rank discrimination against Alberta."

The moratorium, he said, would not prohibit a man who could pay his debts from doing so.

George MacLachlan, Ind., Pembina, declaring that the independent group purposed to support the motion, urged the government to take great care in studying the constitutionality of any new measures it planned to introduce.

FAVORS ADJUSTMENT

In passing the original Debt Adjustment Act, he said, the U.P.A. government went to great lengths to be sure that it would stand the tests of the courts. They secured advice from the best legal authority in the province.

"We were advised," said the former U.P.A. member, "that if we struck out the appeal to a judge our act would be unconstitutional. When our act was passed it was regarded as a fair and honest effort to regulate debt."

"But when this government in 1939 struck out that section providing an appeal to a judge, the effect was that sooner or later there would be an appeal to the court and the result of the appeal was that it was found unconstitutional."

"I am in favor of adjustment of debts on their individual merits, as I think any blanket regulations often do more harm than good. We of the Independent group stand for adjustment of debts on an individual basis to protect the deserving debtor."

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS

He suggested that an appeal be made to the Dominion government to bring the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act up to date so that it might review its past adjustments and make any needed revisions in settlements already dealt with.

H. E. DeBolt, S.C., Spirit River, spoke briefly, saying the moratorium was needed as "we find our people unprotected."

J. J. Bowlen, Lib., Calgary, said that though he was opposed to moratoriums, he would support this motion. "This provincial government has the same constitutional rights as other provinces, and if they would take good legal advice they would have no difficulty," he said.

D. M. Druggan, Ind., Edmonton, also supporting the move, said that the legislature should take action to press upon Ottawa the needs of the west. "Debt adjustment is not enough," he said. "There must be cleaned off the sheet and we must establish a basis of living for the farmer of western Canada."

EASTERN ATTITUDE

The debt adjustment situation, he said, would have settled itself if there had been a proper relationship between eastern and western Canada. "But down there they look on us out here as a necessary evil in building a nation. They feel that we are a bunch of good fellows and are all right as long as we are willing to milk the cow, ship all the cream east and live on skim milk ourselves."

"Something more than debt legislation and moratoriums was necessary," he said.

He felt that the Social Credit party and other groups should find some common ground on which they could unite to make a home case in Ottawa for a better deal for the west.

"I feel the government here and we should bury our differences on some theories. There are practical things knocking on our door," he said. "I believe that if the west were united, any government in Ottawa would listen."

Members Resign Over War Issue

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(CP)—Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war secretary, and two others resigned yesterday from the Liberal National party after attending a caucus which elected two members for failing to vote on the motion of confidence in Prime Minister Churchill's government Jan. 28.

The resignations included those of Edgar Granville and Sir Henry Morris-Jones, both of whom abstained from the roll call in the House of Commons.

Mr. Hore-Belisha's withdrawal came as a protest against the party's endorsing of the other two. He said he would become an independent but it was understood he will continue to support the government.

Mr. Granville and Sir Henry, in a joint letter to Health Minister Ernest Brown, leader of the Liberal National Party which had 34 members in the house, said "something more than the present policy and present government is necessary to win the war."

"Our first loyalty must be the winning of the war," they said. "There is no place today for party politics."
